Letter to Prof: R. H. Thomas:—

University of Maryland,
Baltimore March 13th 1858.

To Prof. R. H. Thomas,

Dear Sir,

We, the Faculty of Physic, receive, with sincere regret, your announcement that the condition of your health obliges you to resign the Chair of Obstetrics, to the duties of which, we believe, you have devoted your best abilities & energies for many years. We remember, gratefully, the desires you have always manifested for the advancement & the reputation of the Institution, with which you have been so long connected. We lament the causes, which have compelled you to withdraw from it, and with a truthful assurance that you have our best hopes for the restoration of your health, we wish you as colleagues, but not as friends, — Farewell.

By order of the Faculty,
N. W. McClenahan Dean

Letter to Prof: Chas. Frick:—

After stating to Prof: F., the title, emoluments &c of the Chair of Materia Medica, with the regulations passed with regard to it at the above meeting of the 13th, and informing him of his election, the Dean advised the Prof: of the conditions connected with it, as follows:—

"In connection with the above, it is necessary, to state, that some years since, in consequence of the heavy disbursements which had been required for the purposes of the School, on the part of the individual members of the then Faculty, it was thought but just, inasmuch as all subsequently elected members would share equally the emoluments & advantages of the Institution, that those thereafter elected to a Chair should be taxed in the sum of $500., to be paid in two annual instalments of $250. each, out of the proceeds of the Chair for the first two sessions of its occupancy. This sum was paid by the former Profs: of Obstetrics & of Materia Medica.

It was suggested further at the meeting, that the Faculty deemed it desirable, for all parties, that upon your acceptance of the above Chair, your connection with the College of Pharmacy be brought to a close, at as early a period, as, in your best judgement, you deemed consistent with your engagements & relations with that Institution. The reasons for this you will at once perceive.

If agreeable to you, and consistent with your views, wishes, to accept the above position, permit me to offer you my sincere congratulations, and to assure you, that you will meet with a cordial welcome from each & every individual of the Faculty, and their hearty cooperation in all your efforts for the advancement of the School.

By order of the Faculty,
S. W. Mickleborough Dean pc

My dear Doctor,

As a meeting of the Faculty of Physic, held this day, I was instructed to convey to you the sincere thanks of the Faculty, for, and their high appreciation of, the services you have rendered the School this winter, they being full sensible of the difficulties in which they were involved, which, without your aid, would have proved almost insurmountable.

Recognizing the labour involved, and the loss of time necessarily resulting, they would respectfully request your acceptance of $500., to be paid out of the graduation fees, which sum I have been instructed to hold subject to your order at the end of the Session.

Hoping that you will receive this slight token of esteem from your friends and colleagues, I remain,

Dear Sir,

In accepting your resignation of the Chair of Anatomy, the Faculty of Physic receive with sincere regret your announcement that the state of your health obliges you to retire from the Professorship, to the duties of which they believe you have devoted your best abilities, and energies for many years.

Faculty Room, March 26th 1860, present Profs. Smith, Aitkin, Chew & Miltenberger, the meeting being called on occasion of the demise of Prof. Chas. Frick, the following and Dr. Berwick B. Smith Demonstrator of Anatomy. It was unanimously

Resolved; That in the death yesterday morning of Dr. Charles Frick the Faculty recognises an event by which the School of Medicine has been deprived of an able and accomplished teacher, the Medical Profession of one of its most distinguished members, and his colleagues a friend whom they cordially respected, honored & loved;

That painful & irreparable as is the loss which they have thus sustained, the Faculty find some measure of consolation, from reflecting on the pure & exalted character of their departed brother; his great professional worth, his unsullied moral excellence, his modest and amiable deportments, which commanded the respect & esteem of all who knew him.

That in the midst of grief they contemplate with just pride the heroic professional feeling which led their colleague to prefer duty to safety, and to endanger & sacrifice his own life, in a generous effort to preserve the life of a suffering & miserable fellow creature.

Such a death they deem the fit and crowning end of such a life, Honor to the noble physician who has died a martyr to humanity.

That the Medical Faculty view with profound regret the loss which their school has suffered by the recent death of Dr: B.B. Smith. The long connection of this gentleman with the College has enabled them to form a just estimate of his conspicuous merits as an anatomist of extensive and accurate knowledge, a surgeon of consummate skill and a friend and associate whom they warmly esteemed for his numerous and endearing virtues.

" Gentlemen;

Feeling myself committed to the publication of a Medical Journal in this place, I write this note to inform you of the fact, that I propose to issue the first number by the work in January. You will remember that I was prompted to make a declaration of my intentions in this ~~respect~~ regard, by an assurance from all the members of the Faculty of their interest in such an enterprise & of their willingness to contribute to its success. If then I am apparently in a position of antagonism to you, Gentlemen, it is one into which I have been forced by the circumstances of the case, and from which there is seemingly no retreat.

Please understand, that the enterprise will be undertaken in no spirit of hostility to you, or opposition to the University – but that I am prompted solely by a sense of duty to myself, & a desire to advance the best interests of those with whom I am associated, & the result prove whether I am wrong in occupying the position, that the interests of two schools which are necessarily antagonistic can not be advanced by the same organ" – a position which was once the ground occupied by all of us, – or you are right in abandoning it.

I must say in this connexion, that I am prompted by no feeling of hostility to the "Maryland Journal" or those connected with it, but as it is decidedly unpopular in North Carolina, and with the Faculty of the University & the very sources above all others from which I expect to draw students to this school, I feel that I should be doing injustice to my best friend, to you and to myself, if I had any connexion, direct or indirect with it. It was true that I was willing to abandon the publication of a Journal under my own auspices, had this Faculty secured a preponderating influence in another, as I supposed such a state of things would release me from the obligations, under which, at your suggestion, I had placed myself, but I feel that these obligations are all the more imperative now that no such influence has been secured by the Faculty, and I can not under any circumstances recognize as binding the action of a Committee which has not carried out its instructions. As I can not, and do not suppose that the Faculty has intentionally placed me in a wrong position, I have no other feelings for them generally, than those of kindness & respect; and in determining to publish a Journal at my own risk, I must protest that no sentiment of resentment has influenced my conduct.

The position which I have thus most unexpectedly been forced to assume by the Faculty, is one of difficulty and embarrassment, in as much as I am a stranger here, and am surrounded by those, who may not appreciate my motives; but sustained by the conviction, that I am laboring to do my duty honestly & conscientiously, knowing that no selfish or unworthy motive has influenced me for a single instant, and feeling that I have only desired to extend even handed justice to all with whom I am associated, and to receive it in return, I can not shrink from its responsibilities and I am contented to abide the issue.

I trust you will understand that I do not ask or desire pecuniary assistance in this matter, for to such an extent do I feel committed in this matter, that I am willing to assume all the responsibility of its publication, and to sacrifice the whole amount if necessary, rather than abate one jot of my plighted word. In conclusion, I have only to say, that this note has been written not to offer an excuse to the Faculty for what I am about to do, or to solicit any formal expression of approbation or disapprobation in regard to my conduct, but simply as a means of enabling you to appreciate my motives, of acquainting you with my feelings in this regard, and of informing you of my intention to publish a Journal.

With sentiments of regard,

Very truly Yours &c

Edward Warren.

After some conversation relating to the above, the Dean was instructed to express to Prof. Warren the regret of the Faculty that he should have felt aggrieved at any action of theirs, & at the same time to state that they had had no intention to promise & had not promised to afford such assistance to his Journal as has seems to have expected.

Baltimore Nov. 22nd 1861,

My dear Doctor,

At the meeting of the Faculty this afternoon, your note was read, through Prof. Aitkin, who further mentioned your views with regard to the summer course. The Faculty would express to you their sincere & unfeigned regret, that any thing should have occurred in connection with them in the school, which should or could have been productive of the slightest annoyance or even discomfort to you. Nothing but the kindest feelings individually & collectively have been felt towards you, and if any thing has appeared in their acts or expressions, which could by possibility wound your feelings or injure you in the slightest degree, it has certainly been entirely unintentional on their part.

Regarding the Journal;- for myself, as you acknowledged yesterday, I have always expressed myself in but one way,- that while I felt an interest in such a project, I had neither the time, opportunity nor inclination to connect myself with one, directly or indirectly. The Faculty have further instructed me to say, that nothing was further from their intention, than to mislead you with regard to the Journal, and that while deeply regretting the misunderstanding, they did not understand that they had promised such co-operation, as you seem to have expected.

In compliance with the views of several of the Faculty, it was unanimously determined that the students should be required to take all the tickets for the Summer Course.

Hoping that this may prove satisfactory to you, the Faculty would express their anxious desire that nothing may in future occur, to disturb the kindly feelings which we all now entertain, or to mar that harmony which is so necessary to our mutual success, and which we all desire to maintain.

Sincerely yrs:

G. W. Miltenberger Dean.

Dear Sir,

I regret exceedingly having caused the Faculty the least inconvenience and assure you that such was by no means my intention. My only reason for not writing was that I supposed it had been announced at the last meeting that the proposed correction would give me satisfaction.

I am under obligations to the Faculty for the kind terms of their recent communication, and to you especially for the very friendly and considerate manner in which you have treated me this and other occasions.

Very respectfully & truly yours,

Faculty Room — December 16th 1860.=

Faculty met, present all the members except Prof. Smith. The first question before the meeting was as to the Holidays, when it was resolved that the vacation extend from the 22nd to the 29th inst, both included.

A statement having been made in regard to the Summer Course, that several students desired to avail themselves of the advantages of the Dissecting Room, without being forced to take the full course, it was declared that the Faculty always regard the Demonstrators fee as separate from theirs and not included in any general or special fee fixed for the lectures, & that in the summer course, as in the winter, any student could take the Demonstrator's ticket, alone.

Resolved:- That the Dean be instructed to inform the class, that the Summer course will be commenced & continued, provided a class of twenty five be procured, & that therefore those students wishing to avail themselves of it, are requested to give their names to the Dean.

In a conversation with regard to Dissecting Room, it was understood, that as heretofore, all necessary attendance upon the rooms, & purposes of cleanliness &c, is to be provided at the individual expense of the Demonstrator.

The following preamble & resolution offered by the Dean, were passed unanimously:-

Whereas, in the present condition of the School, the Faculty appreciate fully the necessity of offering all inducements possible to students, and as chief of these, the extension & development of the Museum, particularly by means of models &c, -

Therefore - Resolved:- That any unappropriated moneys, heretofore in the hands of the Treasurer, be devoted to this purpose, -

Resolved:- That up to the sum of $200. for each chair, such moneys be used according to seniority for the Chairs of Surgery, Practice of Medicine, Obstetrics, Anatomy & Therapeutics: -

Resolved:- That each Prof: receiving such amount, constitute with Prof: Hammond, a committee to procure such models &c, as the former may deem most useful. It being understood that the use of such money, do not involve any call upon the Faculty personally for purposes of Faculty expenses, but that only such sum shall be used by the Treasurer for this purpose, as he shall be able to give after paying all the usual expenses of the Infirmary & the School.

The Institution being now entirely freed from debt,
the incubus which for so many years oppressed it,
every possible charge which could be brought against it having been fully & satisfactorily liquidated, the Treasurer deems it but proper to offer the following resume of its financial affairs during the time, it has been under his charge, from Jan: 1853 to the present.
In January 1853, as far as could then be ascertained, the debt amounted to — — — $ 6425.20

During 1854 all the water closets, bath fixtures required repairs, alterations, while we were forced to introduce a large cooking range, amounting in all to $ 550.
During 1855 the apothecary arrangement were leaving to be paid from the income 7603.70

$9593.70

The house thus besides meeting its current expenses has paid out in the past eight years — $9593.70
During the past year, from the comparatively small number of citizen patients, the Treasurer has been called upon to pay $488.43 for purposes, which have heretofore been supplied from that source, but has also been able to pay the Faculty $378.50, — $866.93.

"My dear Doctor,

As a meeting of the Faculty held yesterday, I was directed to request from you, your views & intentions with regard to the Infirmary. Regarding it as we all do, as one of the most important elements of our success, and the attendance upon the house as necessary a part of our duties as the lectures themselves, it is absolutely requisite that we should have some fixed arrangement of its duties.

The Faculty request that you would inform them if possible, of the time of your expected return, and when you can again take charge of it. There appears to have been an idea entertained by some, that on account of the existing condition of affairs, the school would not be opened, and the lectures would be suspended the coming session. We hope no such impression has been made upon your mind, as we shall unquestionably open our halls and commence the course at the specified time, under all circumstances. Please let us hear from you at your earliest convenience, as we deem it a matter of paramount importance, if your engagements detain you for any time, to provide for Clinical attendance & instruction.

Yours very sincerely
F. W. Miltenberger Dean &c."

Richmond May 15th 1862,

"Dear Sir,

In reply to your communication, I have to say, that I have been detained from my post longer than I had anticipated, and I design returning to Baltimore in a day, or two.

I hardly supposed, taking the past history of the Infirmary into the account, that the temporary absence of a Professor for a few days would have been esteemed of sufficient moment as to induce the Faculty to hold a special meeting upon the subject, or to call forth a letter reminding me of my duties in this regard.

I would beg leave also to remark, that in times like these, there are some obligations, such as those to Country, family & friends, of such importance as to demand the exclusive attention of every right-minded man whatever the circumstances surrounding him, and in the observance of which, he surely has a right to expect the support of those who should be his friends and who are certainly no more than his equals.

Very respectfully &c
Edward Warren".

"My dear Doctor,

At a Faculty meeting held to-day, I was again instructed to communicate with you, concerning the condition of the school in its present state of affairs; your prolonged absence from the city, and without any information as to your whereabouts or intentions, has has already been a source of serious inconvenience to us, and becomes every day more and more so, from the pressing necessity to advertize our coming course and our utter inability, from the uncertainty in which you have left us, to do so, satisfactorily to ourselves or our class. From various sources we have been led to suppose, that you had accepted a commission in the Confederate Army. If so, we presume of course, you would not trust yourself in a city now in the hands of the Northern Army, where you would be in constant hazard of arrest.

Dr: Smith has written you once or thrice, and has also written your father, as your friend, his candid opinion of the prospects of the school &c, to neither of which Letters has he rec'd a reply.

"Concluding therefore that you did not intend to return, but unwilling to act unadvisedly, the Faculty have directed me to say, that if we do not hear from you by the 25th inst: duly to the institution will oblige us to declare your chair vacant and to proceed to fill it. We would prefer to hear from you, fully and have been very anxious to do nothing without your entire concurrence, but duty leaves us but the one course to pursue.

Yours very sincerely

W. Hilton Dean &c

Richmond August 6th 1861

To the Faculty of the University of Maryland,
Sirs:

I received on yesterday a letter from the Dean written some time since, informing me, that my chair was to be declared vacant on the 25th ultimo, and a substitute elected in my stead. As the date alluded to had already gone by, I suppose this threat has been carried into execution and I write to-day, for the purpose of giving expression to my views of this action on your part. When I first left Baltimore, it was with the intention of returning in a few days, as I informed one of the Faculty, and it was until events had occurred which rendered it unsafe and unpleasant for me to do so, that I abandoned the idea. Having rendered myself obnoxious to certain parties in Baltimore by my devotion to the Southern cause, and feeling, that I could not breathe the same atmosphere with those who had slain my best friend, and who were ready to wage an unjust war on the land of my birth, I concluded to remain in Carolina and await the progress of events. Since that time it has been impossible for me to make my way through the enemy's lines to your city, and hence my detention here has been a matter of necessity. In a word, such obstacles have opposed themselves to the performance of my duties, as to have rendered a proper discharge of them, - even if I had been disposed to regard them, - a matter of utter impossibility, and it strikes me there is no justice in attempting to punish a man for failing to do that, which was utterly precluded by the circumstances of the case.
